

The University Park Church of Christ in Hyattsville, Maryland, is searching for candidates for its Preaching Minister position. We hope to find someone who strongly desires to work as a preacher in a local congregation.

We are a middle-of-the-road, a cappella, urban congregation inside the Capital Beltway, only about two miles from the District of Columbia. We have a racially and economically diverse membership, with 120 in attendance on most Sundays before the pandemic. We now stream worship services and have various video conference activities.

Our building and grounds are free of debt, and we are financially stable.

We began advertising our position before the pandemic, but we are having trouble attracting candidates with suitable backgrounds and education. We would like to attract non-white candidates, or white candidates with experience in racially diverse congregational or working environments. We live in a predominantly African-American county that has a swiftly growing Hispanic population. It is a great place to live and work. I've been here since 1968.

Our full application is available for download on our website: www.upcoc.com.

Anyone wanting to discuss the position may email or call me.
